DETAILED ACTION

1. This is the First Office Action on the Merits from the examiner in charge of this application.

Specification

2. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it includes legal phraseology such as "comprises:". Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by USP 5,340,209 to Kolbe et al.

Kolbe et al discloses a mounting arrangement for the internal dividing elements of refrigerators and freezers comprising all the elements recited in the above listed claims including, such as shown in Figs 1-6, a compartment having two lateral walls, each carrying at least one rail 22 on which is slidably seated an adjacent lateral portion of an internal dividing element 27 to be horizontally displaced between a first position, in which it is retracted inside the compartment, and second positions in which it is partially displaced forwardly and outwardly from the compartment, characterized in that each rail 22 comprises a flat horizontal upper track and a lower track, parallel to the upper track and which is provided with a stop means 51 and a longitudinal guide rail, each lateral portion of the internal dividing element 27 comprising a seating surface to be slidably seated on the upper track of the respective rail 22 and a retaining surface disposed below the lower track and which carries a lock 51, which in an operative position, is slidably seated against the lower track of the same rail, in order to abut said stop means to define a second maximum displacement position of the internal dividing element forwardly and outwardly from the compartment, at least one of the lateral portions of the internal dividing element further comprising, in distinct regions of the longitudinal extension of the retaining surface thereof, a guide follower which is slidably fitted in the guide rail of the lower track of the respective rail.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Ribolzi, Dallman, Jenkins, Boorman, Sharpe, Sywert, Ogawa et al, and Kodama all show structures similar to various elements of applicant's disclosure.
